SUMMARY

I am a frontend developer, with hands on experience building scalable solutions. I am always eager to learn, practice, build and grow as a developer.

PROJECTS

E-commerce Website: I built a highly scalable E-commerce website for online retail.

Stack: React, Tailwind CSS, and React Hook

Rest Countries API: Stack: I fetched Rest Countries API to build website that provides detailed data about countries, including population, languages, capital cities, currencies, regions, and native names. I built this to address the challenge of presenting complex data in a simple and visually appealing way. It includes features like search, filtering, and country exploration, offering users a smooth and informative experience.

Stack: React, Tailwind CSS, and API
